Travel experiences for the environmentally nostalgic

About Our Vintage Earth

Our Vintage Earth (OVE) is a booking platform and knowledge base for regenerative tourism. We connect travelers with experiences and accommodations that actively restore ecosystems and honor cultures.

Founded in 2021, OVE was born from a simple question: What if travel could heal instead of harm? We believe tourism should be a practice of reciprocity, where travelers participate in restoration, communities benefit as much as visitors, and the planet is left better than we found it.

Through curated regenerative experiences, educational content, and our digital literary magazine The Evening Earth Gazette, we're building a movement toward intentional, restorative travel.

Our mission: Transform tourism from extractive to regenerative, helping people travel not as consumers, but as participants in the healing of ecosystems and cultures.

Why Partner With Us

Connect with Values-Aligned Travelers

Your impact-focused experience will be featured on a platform dedicated to travelers who share your commitment to restoration, cultural respect, and environmental stewardship.

Fair Commission Structure

Only 15% commission compared to major platforms (Airbnb: 20%, Viator: 25-30%, GetYourGuide: 25-30%). No commission taken from Indigenous-owned and led experiences.

Your Impact, Amplified

1% of our commission per booking is donated to a local nonprofit that shares your mission. You can choose the organization or we'll help you find one.

You're Not Just a Listing

We promote the humans behind the experiences. You'll have opportunities to be featured on our social media, in traveler newsletters, on event panels, in research, and in The Evening Earth Gazette, our digital literary magazine.

Grow Your Business

Beginning Q2 2026, gain complimentary access to expert-led webinars and in-person events covering marketing, fundraising, and sustainable business practices. Plus, access to our digital magazine and industry research.

Partnership Standards

All Our Vintage Earth partners commit to creating experiences that restore rather than extract. We organize experiences across four impact areas:

Ethical Ecotourism

Your experience must:

- Actively contribute to ecosystem restoration or biodiversity protection
- Educate participants about local conservation efforts and environmental challenges
- Minimize environmental impact through sustainable practices
- Support wildlife protection and habitat preservation

Inclusive Wellness

Your experience must:

- Support holistic health practices rooted in cultural tradition
- Work with local healers, practitioners, or wellness experts
- Be accessible and welcoming to diverse participants
- Honor the cultural origins of wellness practices offered

Holistic Food Systems

Your experience must:

- Source ingredients locally and seasonally
- Support regenerative agriculture or sustainable farming practices
- Educate participants about food systems and their environmental impact
- Preserve traditional food knowledge and culinary heritage

Cultural Heritage

Your experience must:

- Preserve and celebrate local traditions, languages, or cultural practices
- Be led by or directly benefit community members
- Educate participants about cultural history and significance
- Protect cultural knowledge from exploitation or appropriation

Universal Partner Requirements

All partners must:

- ✓ Be open and welcoming to all people regardless of race, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation, or any other differences
- ✓ Be locally owned and/or led (ideally both)
- ✓ Value and protect all parts of our natural ecosystems
- ✓ Be willing to participate in impact measurement and evaluation to advance the regenerative tourism field

What You Provide

- Experience description (what you offer, what your impact is)
- High quality photos of your experience (3-5)
- Pricing and availability
- Regular updates through our easy-to-use partner dashboard

Onboarding Process

2. Partnership agreement signed by both parties
3. Experience assets provided via a form the OVE team will send you
4. Profile Setup
5. Go live once the platform launches

Frequently Asked Questions

Is there a fee to join the platform?

No, there are no listing fees, subscription fees or upfront costs. We earn when you earn through our 15% commission on completed bookings.

What types of experiences work best on OVE?

We focus on half-day and full-day experiences designed for flexible individual travelers (FIT). Multi-day experiences and group tours are considered on a case-by-case basis.

When does the platform launch?

Our beta platform will launch in Q3 2026. Partners who join now will receive feature placement and additional marketing support at launch.

How do I manage my availability?

Partners manage their availability, pricing, and bookings through an easy-to-use dashboard. You have full control over your calendar and can update it anytime.

What if my experience doesn't fit perfectly into one category?

Many regenerative experiences span multiple impact areas! We'll work with you to determine the best fit and may feature your experience across categories.

Do you accept experiences that are also listed on other platforms?

Yes, as long as you don't have exclusivity agreements with other platforms. We want to amplify your reach, not restrict it.

What if my experience doesn't fully fit OVE's requirements yet?

We offer consulting services to help you get there. Our Path to Partnership program supports experiences in becoming regenerative and meeting our partnership standards. We also offer Regenerative Experience Creation consulting to help you develop new offerings from the ground up. Email hello@ourvintageearth.com to learn more.

What kind of travelers use Our Vintage Earth?

OVE attracts travelers who make sustainable decisions part of their lifestyle and are lifelong learners, valuing experiences where they can take their knowledge home with them. Many are solo travelers, couples, and small groups looking for authentic connections to place and culture.
